

Sandia Presbyterian Worship Schedule

8:15 in the SRC: This service leans somewhat traditional: call to worship, a hymn, and another hymn before the benediction. We might include a contemporary song in the middle. There will be special music performed by various groups and ensembles in the church. The choir will rarely make an appearance in this service. There will be no organ since the service meets in the Sunrise Chapel (SRC). There will be no children's sermon at this service, but there will be childcare up to 5 years old. This service is very casual and designed for people who like to get an early start on Sundays.

9:30 in Sanctuary: This is the Traditional Service. This service also begins and ends with a hymn and includes the same liturgy as the 8:15 service. This service will include the 40-member chancel choir and the organ. The choir and the ministers wear robes at this service. This service will also feature special music from soloists and various ensembles. The same sermon will be given by the same pastor as the 8:15 service. There will be a children's sermon at this service. After the children's sermon, kids will be able to attend Sunday School. This is our biggest service, designed for people who prefer a more traditional feel.

10:45 Contemporary in the SRC: The contemporary service is new to Sandia Presbyterian and is very relaxed and casual. Naturally, the music is very contemporary and new. Singing is led by a worship leader and a band. Only very rarely will there be special music performed, since the music is meant to be participatory. The same sermon will be given by the same pastor as the earlier two services. There will be a children's message at this service. After the children's sermon, kids will be able to attend Sunday School which is also offered during this hour.
